

HOT FIGHT DUE IN BIG TIM'S OLD REALM

Lively Times Looked For When the Sullivans Get Back.

SAID TO BE ON IMPERATOR

Due Early Next Week, and Then the Hunt for Fitzgerald's Scalp Will Begin.

The report that Big Tim Sullivan and his only full brother, Patrick H. Sullivan, are sailing for New York on the Imperator has revived the speculation as to what will be the outcome of the struggle for the leadership of the Third Assembly district, which used to be Big Tim's own.

There have been plenty of rumors that the fight between Senator John C. Fitzgerald on the one side and Paddy Sullivan and Larry Mulligan on the other, has been patched up, but Tammany leaders said yesterday that this is not true, and that the reason why Paddy is coming home is so that he will have plenty of time to whip followers into line for primary day.

There is no certainty that Big Tim and Paddy are really on their way back. The big leader has been at Torquay trying to regain his broken health, and Paddy has been a constant nurse and attendant. Dr. Kennedy is the only other person in the party, and Big Tim's mind has been assiduously directed toward other things than politics.

On July 4 Paddy Sullivan in a talk with a New York correspondent said that he didn't know just when he and his brother would return. Four days later the cable brought word to some of the papers that Big Tim, Paddy and Dr. Kennedy were to sail on the Imperator, due early next week, but the news lacked confirmation. Still it may be true, and what will happen in the Third district has become a burning question.

How the Branch Began.

When Big Tim first broke down in health, in mind and body, no mention was made of it. His relatives and friends, believing that he would recover, wanted to keep the district intact, as it would surely remain if there was any hope of the Big Fellow's ever taking the helm again. Senator Fitzgerald, who had been close to Big Tim, and succeeded the leader in the State Senate, became leader of the district more than a year ago, when it became known that Big Tim's health would never permit him to resume his old time way.

Then Paddy Sullivan demanded that a special election be called in the district and he be chosen to succeed Big Tim in Congress. Senator Fitzgerald refused, and this was the cause of the break.

Paddy and Larry Mulligan have already broken away from the Timothy D. Sullivan Association, the Tammany club of the district, and have started one of their own with headquarters across the street from the old organization. They have won over to their side in the fight some of the strong men in the district and the rank and file has been just about split in half.

Peace, Peace, but There is No Peace.

At the annual outing of the Timothy D. Sullivan Association there was a lot of talk on the outside that the fight had been patched up, but the strain between the factions was noticeable even on this outing of peace.

The Tammany leaders of other districts have been doing their best to patch the trouble up. Tammany will have a lot of trouble this fall without internal war. A fight in the Third Assembly district would certainly embroil the Eighth and Tenth, which are in the same Congress district, and there is no telling how far it might spread.

In the old days, when Big Tim had a firm grip on the political affairs of the Third, he was so strong he didn't have to yield much to his opponents. He could demand almost anything he wanted for his district. Senator Fitzgerald would probably favor the big organization as a whole without much thought as to his own, hence, which is one reason why other Tammany leaders will support him. But Larry Mulligan personally has as much strength, and Paddy Sullivan is Big Tim's only brother, so it looks like a very pretty fight as it stands.

LIEUT. KAVANAGH BAILED.

Held in $5,000 on Accusation of Raid. Convicted Receiver.

Police Lieutenant Frederick M. Kavanagh of the City Island station, who was indicted on Friday following leader Rader's confession that he was a receiver of stolen property had used members of the police as his accomplices, came to the Criminal Courts Building yesterday morning to give himself up. He was accompanied by Robert M. Moore, a lawyer.

Mr. Moore had tried to get in touch with his client on Friday, when the indictment was voted and signed, but Kavanagh was transferred that day from a Brooklyn precinct to City Island, and his attorney could not find him in time. There were no judges sitting in General Sessions Court yesterday and none was in his chambers. Mr. Moore and Assistant District Attorney Mr. Egan went to the Supreme Court, where they found Justice Gavegan. Bail was fixed at $5,000 and was furnished by the National Surety Company. Kavanagh will be up in Part I. of General Sessions Court to-morrow. The charge is that he took $50 from Rader for suppressing evidence.

Kavanagh has been in the Police Department seventeen years. This is the only transaction that Rader, convicted receiver of stolen property, claims to have had with him.

I. W. W. FLAG INSULTED BEATEN.

Corporal Defends Army and Navy and Knocks Out Agitator.

DENVER, July 12.—Corporal Edward Carswell of the naval recruiting station here beat up an I. W. W. spell-binder yesterday when the latter cursed the American flag, heaped abuse upon the army and navy and denounced the recruiting officer as the hiring murderer employed by capital.

The I. W. W. speaker, Antonio Rossi, surrounded by a crowd of sympathizers was rounding off a fiery socialistic address when his eyes fell on "Old Glory" above the door of the recruiting station, and he yelled, "Down with the flag!"

Carswell forced his way through the crowd and flung himself at the speaker, who went down from a punch to the jaw. Rossi arose in an instant.

"You are the murderous hiring of capital!" he shouted, but had hardly finished the words when he again struck the pavement from another blow. He was unconscious and was carried away by the crowd. Carswell dislocated two fingers.

TENER WIPES OUT CONVENTION.

Statewide Primaries in Pennsylvania Now a Law.

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 12.—Approval of the Jones statewide primary act was announced to-night by Gov. Tener. The bill was a Progressive measure, having been drafted by the legislative committee created by the Republican State convention last year. It was changed materially in the Legislature, however, and adopted only after going to conference.

Primary elections under the new law will abolish State conventions in Pennsylvania. Candidates for Governor and other State offices are to be nominated direct. United States Senators are to be elected direct, the Legislature having nothing to do with it. The people vote directly for their choice for President of the United States, and national delegates must pledge themselves on the primary ballot to support or not to support the popular choice of the State for President. State committeemen and all other party officers are also to be chosen at the direct primaries.

LITTLE JAPANESE WAS PLUMB FULL OF FIGHT

Occidental Showed the White
Feather. With Park Row Crowd Looking On.

At that hour yesterday when the downtown offices were sending their crowds away for the half holiday two young Japanese were making toward the subway entrance nearest the City Hall. A young man with a loose jaw—he didn't give his name, and the policeman who came at the close of the incident didn't take the trouble to inquire—rubbed up against the two Japanese and in a minute tongues were wagging. They were going so freely that one of the Japanese pulled off his coat.

"Come on," he said. "See if what you said is so."

With a great show of fight the white man pulled off his coat too—until one arm was unlimbered. Then he hesitated. He looked at the Japanese, saw that his forearm was ready for business and apparently began to think that the uses of peace work better.

Wayfarers came running. Around the Franklin statue Socialist orators were haranguing the crowd and the New York baseball bulletin was drawing spectators. So the policemen on traffic duty didn't take notice of the knot of onlookers.

The young Japanese showed so much fight that a circle was cleared for him. The white man was still undecided whether he wanted war or not.

"Come ahead," the Japanese roared, "I'll trim you first." "The cop is coming, but I'll trim you first."

A dozen hands reached for the white man's coat and hat, but he was already elbowing his way through the crowd. The Japanese still brandishing that forearm. The white man was putting his coat on and had his face half turned away. Then came the final Oriental insult—the Japanese spat in his face.

When a policeman came shouldering through the crowd the white man was on his way to Conny Island and the two Japanese strutted away with as much bravado as their five feet three would allow.

ALARM CLOCK SOUNDS DISASTER.

Falls to Rouse Street Sleeper, but Brings Policeman.

A big alarm clock strung on the arm of Myrtle Armstrong as she slept on a stoop in Greenwich Avenue rang out early yesterday morning, but the woman slept on until Policeman Helmut of the Charles street station, who was attracted by the sound, awakened her and put her under arrest on a charge of intoxication. The alarm clock still dangled by a velvet cord from the woman's arm when she faced Magistrate Breen in the Jefferson Market court. She was afraid the Magistrate would confiscate it and pleaded that it was the last of her possessions. She said $5 had been stolen from her the previous night, and as she had no place to sleep she set the alarm to be ready to go to her work as a laundress in the morning.

She was unable to pay the $1 fine imposed.

MINUS ONE CHARTER.

Promoter Stillwell Loses His Metropolitan Finance Co.

By a decision of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court yesterday the Metropolitan Finance Company, whose charter has been used by Arthur E. Stillwell in raising money for the promotion of railroads and other enterprises, was put out of business and its charter was annulled.

Stillwell has been running the United States and Mexican Trust Company, which has been acting as fiscal agent for his Kansas City, Mexico and Orient Railroad. When the State authorities complained that it was doing business there without permission Stillwell said he was using the charter of the Metropolitan Finance Company, granted in 1895.

Attorney-General Carmody used to revoke the charter of the Metropolitan Finance Company. The Appellate Division decided that the charter lapsed because the company made no effort to do business within two years after it was granted.

SUES RAILROAD FOR REBATE.

Yonkers Sugar Firm Wants Allowance of $2 a Car.

The National Sugar Refining Company of Yonkers filed suit yesterday against the New York Central Railroad Company to recover $12,050. The plaintiff alleges that when it built its refinery along the New York Central line it agreed to make an allowance to the refinery because the latter loaded its own shipments, and says similar allowances were made to other refineries in the vicinity of New York. The complaint says the railroad paid $2 a car for some years, but paid nothing between 1908 and 1909, when 6,028 carloads of sugar were shipped.

RECEIVERSHIP FOR ANDREWS, ARCHITECT

Charles P. Taft Among Company's Creditors, With Claim of $350,000.

BLAMES GEN. T. C. DU PONT

Company Is Suing Him for $680,000 for New Equitable Building Plans.

Frank M. Andrews & Co., architects, of 1 Madison Avenue, who head is Frank M. Andrews, husband of Pauline Fredericks, an actress, went into an equity receivership yesterday with liabilities of $500,000, and assets estimated by the firm of $900,000. The chief item in the assets is a claim on T. Coleman du Pont for $680,000 for plans of the new thirty-six story Equitable Building at 120 Broadway, which are not to be used. The sum includes the price of first plans, the price of 80 per cent. of a second set, and the loss of profit on the unfinished 20 per cent. of the second set.

The principal creditors of the company are the Title Guarantee and Trust Company, which holds promissory notes for $150,000 and Charles P. Taft, brother of the ex-President, to whom the company is indebted $350,000.

C. W. Wickersham Receiver.

The equity receivership was asked for by August C. Streitwolf of New Brunswick, N. J., and the Woolworth Building, who is Mr. Andrews's lawyer, Cornelius W. Wickersham of 37 Wall Street, son of President Taft's Attorney-General, is the receiver.

Mr. Andrews was not one time president of the Greeley Square Hotel Company which built the Hotel McAlpin. He had trouble with Gen. du Pont then, he said yesterday, and resigned last December. C. H. Rembold succeeded him. The Hotel McAlpin cost $12,000,000. Charles P. Taft was associated with Mr. Andrews in the enterprise.

One of the big contracts of Frank M. Andrews & Co. is on the new Arlington Hotel in Washington. This contract is unfinished and Mr. Wickersham, as receiver, will see that it is carried out. It is listed as a $140,000 asset.

"Then you blame Gen. du Pont for your trouble?" Mr. Andrews was asked at his apartment in the St. Regis yesterday.

Blame Gen. du Pont.

"Gen. du Pont is a very large contributor to my financial troubles said Mr. Andrews drily. "He and I are at swords' points and have been for some time. My company is suing Gen. du Pont."

"This has nothing to do with the fact that I have separated from my wife," said Mr. Andrews. He married in September, 1909. The architect went on:

"I have seen so many stories about my relations with my wife lately that I wish to make this statement. It has been said that I am not contributing to her support. That is untrue. I am. Never mind how much."

"Is there any chance of your coming together again?"

"Not in a thousand years—I'll make it longer if it needs emphasis."

Frank M. Andrews & Co. was incorporated in April, 1908. It has capital stock of $250,000 preferred and $100,000 common. Mr. Andrews holds $150,000 preferred and $98,000 common. On July 2 the directors decided to suspend business for lack of ready money. Outstanding accounts were $943,000, $743,000 past due. Aside from debts to C. P. Taft and the Title Guarantee and Trust Company the firm says it owes less than $30,000.

Two suits against the company now pending undefended are brought by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for rent, $50 a month on a five year lease. The firm says the Hudson Hotel Company owes it $60,000 and the State of Montana $3,500 for plans for a new capitol. The company also drew plans for the Hotel Taft, New Haven, and the Kentucky State Capitol.

VEILED BLUMENBERG REQUEST.

Leaves It to Associate's Honor to Pay $15 a Week to Some One.

The will of Marc A. Blumenberg, publisher of the Musical Courier, who died on March 17 last in Paris, leaves the income on 20 per cent. of his interest in the Musical Courier and two other corporations to his associates on his publications. They are his brother, Louis William Gelper, editor of the Musical Courier; Ernest F. Euler, Alvin L. Schmoeger and Edward A. Alexander.

He left $5,500 to Schmoeger, with instructions that he is to pay out $15 a week for twelve years for certain purposes stated in a letter left by the testator, and he said he would trust to Schmoeger's honor to use the money for the purpose intended.

He left 80 per cent. of his holdings in trust, from which his widow, Ruth Blumenberg, is to receive $1,000 a month for life. Mr. Blumenberg directed that the executors take such books from his library as they need in the business, and the other books which his wife doesn't care to keep are to go to the New York Public Library.

ASKS TO BE TRIED FOR MURDER.

O'Donnell Has Been Held as Insane
Since Crime Fourteen Years Ago.

Michael O'Donnell, who was committed to Matteawan by Supreme Court Justice Seabury on July 8 on the ground that he is still insane and cannot be tried for killing a man in a saloon row in 1899, for which he has been in Matteawan most of the time since, started proceedings yesterday in an effort to be tried at once on the murder charge.

O'Donnell got a writ of habeas corpus from Justice Gavegan and in his petition alleges that he is of sound mind and that Justice Seabury had not right to send him back to the Matteawan asylum, and that Justice Morehouse of Westchester ordered him here last February for trial on the report of the Matteawan alienists that he is sane and that Justice Morehouse's opinion takes precedence over Justice Seabury's.

The District Attorney's office believes that O'Donnell is still insane and it was on the report by alienists called in by the District Attorney that O'Donnell was sent back.

Killed by Fall in Steamer's Hold.

Michael Deegan, 45 years old, a longshoreman whose widow and four children live at 1100 E. 125th Street, Brooklyn, was found dead in the hold of the Wilson Line steamship Idaho at the foot of Seventh street, Hoboken, yesterday. He with others had been unloading grain. No one saw him hurt, so far as the authorities could learn. Dr. Callery of St. Mary's Hospital said Deegan had probably been instantly killed by falling on his head in the hold.
